The Recreation and Leisure Management program prepares students for job opportunities in any recreational setting through:

- Understanding of concepts and philosophies
- Development of a personal, professional philosophy of recreation.
- Thorough knowledge of the nature and history of the recreation movement, its origin, and current trends.
- Opportunities to demonstrate competence, academic knowledge, and physical skills for eminent leadership recreation.

The curriculum includes core General Education courses and major-specific courses, including outdoor recreation, sport marketing, recreation management, and other related topics.

Hotel, Restaurant, and Tourism Management (HTRM)

<https://cheyney.edu/academics/academic-departments-programs/the-department-of-business-education-and-professional-studies/>

Graduating students are industry-experienced, technologically savvy, and effective oral and written communicators through advanced, experiential education. With an ability to think critically and systematically solve problems, our students are prepared to succeed in these competitive and growing fields. The Accreditation Commission accredits the HRTM Program for Programs in Hotel Administration (ACPHA).
