Exercise and Human Performance Science (BS)

<https://www.ycp.edu/academics/dr-donald-e-and-lois-j-myers-school-of-nursing-and-health-professions/programs/exercise-and-human-performance-science/>

As an Exercise and Human Performance Science major, you'll be prepared for a career in the rapidly growing exercise, health, and wellness industry. YCP's Bachelor of Science in Exercise and Human Performance offers two concentrations, so you can follow the path that best aligns with your career goals. These concentrations include a professional track that prepares students for a professional graduate program that requires an advanced degree such as physical therapy or occupational therapy and a Management of Fitness and Wellness Track that builds skills needed for leadership roles in the fitness and wellness industry, including owning your own business. Studying Exercise and Human Performance Science gives you the practical tools and education needed to help others improve their quality of life.

Recreation Leadership (BS)

<https://www.ycp.edu/academics/school-of-behavioral-sciences-and-education/programs/recreation-leadership/>

The Recreation Leadership degree program prepares you for a variety of jobs in recreation. Three areas of emphasis are available to students pursuing this major include Outdoor Leadership, Youth and Family Recreation, and Recreational Therapy.

The Recreation Leadership major offers a wide variety of classroom and real-world learning opportunities. Students begin with core recreation classes and then move into areas of emphasis in either Outdoor Leadership, Youth and Family Recreation, or Recreational Therapy. Community involvement is an essential part of any recreation degree. York College students enjoy hands-on experience with local and regional organizations. You'll have opportunities to make a real difference, helping to improve people's health and wellbeing while you discover a meaningful career in recreation, recreational therapy, or outdoor leadership.

Hospitality Management (BS)

<https://www.ycp.edu/academics/school-of-the-arts-communication-and-global-studies/programs/hospitality-management/>

The hospitality industry is one of the largest and most important sectors of the American economy, not to mention one of the fastest-growing. Its sheer size and diversity provide an abundance of career options in lodging, food and beverage distribution, catering, the gaming industry, cruise lines, airlines, food service, theme parks, the entertainment industry, the restaurant business and many more. Students complete 800 hours in a continuous internship program over their first three years, learning by doing at local and regional tourist locations where they develop critical thinking and problem-solving skills. They also take part in planning and executing events at the College, using state-of-the-art facilities to prepare for a career in an industry that is one of the nation's leading employers.

Sport Management (BS)

<https://www.ycp.edu/academics/graham-school-of-business/programs/sport-management/>

Job growth in sport management is rising, and YCP's hands-on program will prepare you to excel in this expanding field. Our bachelor's degree in Sport Management introduces you to the industry from all angles and then gives you space to choose the areas of concentration for your future career. From day one, you'll explore the business of sport, along with event management, operations, marketing, ethics, and much more.

SPORT MEDIA (BS)

<https://www.ycp.edu/academics/graham-school-of-business/programs/sport-media/>

Turn your passion for sports into a career. Sports are about community — people coming together to celebrate a shared love of athletic skill, competition, and performance. The Sport Media bachelor's degree program offers three tracks, allowing you to hone your area of specialization within the sports communication field. Tracks include Integrated Marketing Communications, Sports Communication Performance, and Sports Communication Production. The program features practicum semesters with York College Athletics and Campus Recreation to prepare you with a strong foundational skillset. You'll be prepared to take on any role as your career grows. With state-of-the-art facilities in the Grumbacher Sport and Fitness Center, as well as an on-campus radio station and television studio, you'll practice on the same types of equipment that professionals in sports media use every day. When you graduate you'll be well-equipped and ready to contribute to this dynamic industry
